Dear Parents,

With the Half-Yearly Examinations around the corner, the energy across GDDS was filled with focus, preparation and determination. But even as students sharpened their academic readiness, the day continued to offer opportunities for wellness, creativity, exploration, discipline and sport.

Focused Minds, Brighter Beginnings

With the examinations approaching, students were seen immersed in revision, practice and final preparations.

Classrooms reflected a focused learning environment as students revisited concepts, worked through worksheets and strengthened their understanding. Teachers continued to guide and encourage students, helping them approach the examinations with clarity, confidence and a positive mindset.

DISCIPLINE

TOMORROW

At GDDS, preparation is not simply about completing a syllabus—it is about preparing students to give their best and believe in their own abilities.

Space Lab

Exploring Beyond the Classroom

CURIOSITY
EXPLORATION
INNOVATION
A BRIGHTER
TOMORROW

Discovering New Horizons

Students had the opportunity to engage with the Space Lab, bringing curiosity and scientific exploration to life.

Such experiences encourage young minds to look beyond textbooks, ask questions and develop a deeper interest in the world of science, technology and discovery.

“Exploring space today
for a brighter tomorrow.”

GROW

Students explored the concept of seed rate in agriculture, connecting classroom learning with the practical world around them.

The activity encouraged students to understand how scientific concepts have real-world applications and how thoughtful agricultural practices contribute to effective cultivation.

Worksheet Activity

Learning Through Practice

PRACTISE

SUCCEED

A worksheet activity gave students an opportunity to apply their understanding, practise concepts and reinforce their learning.

Such activities help students develop accuracy, concentration and independent problem-solving skills—especially valuable as they prepare for their examinations.

NCC Training

Discipline in Action

DISCIPLINE

LEADERSHIP

Through NCC training, students experienced lessons in discipline, coordination, teamwork and responsibility.

Beyond physical training, NCC helps cultivate qualities that shape young people into confident, responsible and disciplined individuals.

Yoga

Finding Calm Before the Challenge

BREATHE
BALANCE
WELLBEING
A BRIGHTER TOMORROW

Amid the excitement of exam preparation, Yoga offered students a valuable moment to pause, breathe and find balance.

The practice supports focus, flexibility and mindfulness, helping students approach a demanding academic period with greater calm and concentration.

Dance

Expression Through Movement

MOVE
EXPRESS CREATE
BE YOURSELF

The Joy of Movement

The day also made space for Dance, allowing students to express themselves through rhythm and movement.

Dance nurtures confidence, coordination, creativity and joyful self-expression, reminding us that learning and growth take many forms.

Basketball

Energy, Teamwork & Sportsmanship

On the Court, Beyond the Classroom

Students took to the basketball court, bringing energy and enthusiasm to their sporting session.

Basketball encourages coordination, quick thinking, teamwork, perseverance and sportsmanship—qualities that are valuable both on the court and beyond it.

Ready to Rise

As the Half-Yearly Examinations draw closer, September 10 reflected the spirit of GDDS perfectly: focused in preparation, curious in learning, disciplined in action and joyful in growth.

Tomorrow may bring an examination, but today was about something bigger—preparing students to face every challenge with confidence, commitment and the courage to soar high.

Warm regards,

GDDS
