Chairman Connects with Students

LISTEN | ENGAGE | EMPOWER

Dear Parents,

At GDDS, some of the most meaningful moments happen when the people who lead the institution sit down with the children it exists to serve.

Today, Chairman Mr. Dinesh Juneja spent meaningful time interacting with the students, listening to them, engaging with their thoughts and sharing moments of connection. Such interactions remind our students that their voices matter and that the people guiding their institution remain closely connected to their everyday experiences.

Alongside this meaningful interaction, the day reflected the strong academic and leadership rhythm of GDDS — from assessments and revision to remedial support, from classroom observation to teacher collaboration, and from a birthday celebration that gave back to nature to the quiet work that happens behind every student's progress.

Class 1 | Learning Through Dance

Class 1 students brought energy and enthusiasm to the day through dance, developing rhythm, coordination, confidence and joyful self-expression.

Class 2 | Testing Knowledge Through GK

Class 2 students put their learning into practice through a General Knowledge test, encouraging recall, awareness and the ability to apply what they have learned.

Class 8 | Strengthening Grammar

Class 8 students explored adverbs in English Grammar, learning how these words add detail and precision to communication.

Remedial Classes | Supporting Every Learner

Revision continued alongside regular learning, giving students an opportunity to revisit concepts, strengthen understanding and identify areas requiring further attention. Remedial classes continued to provide focused academic support, allowing students to work on areas where they need additional practice and guidance.

At GDDS, learning is not one-size-fits-all. Every learner deserves the time, attention and support needed to progress with confidence.

A Birthday Gift to the Future | Planting Trees

A beautiful tradition of celebrating birthdays with purpose came alive as students celebrating their birthdays planted trees.

Instead of marking another year only with celebration, the students created something that can continue to grow long after the day is over, a small but meaningful gesture towards nature, responsibility and the future.

Principal's Academic Review | Looking Closely at Student Work

The Principal met with teachers as part of the school's ongoing academic review and coordination.

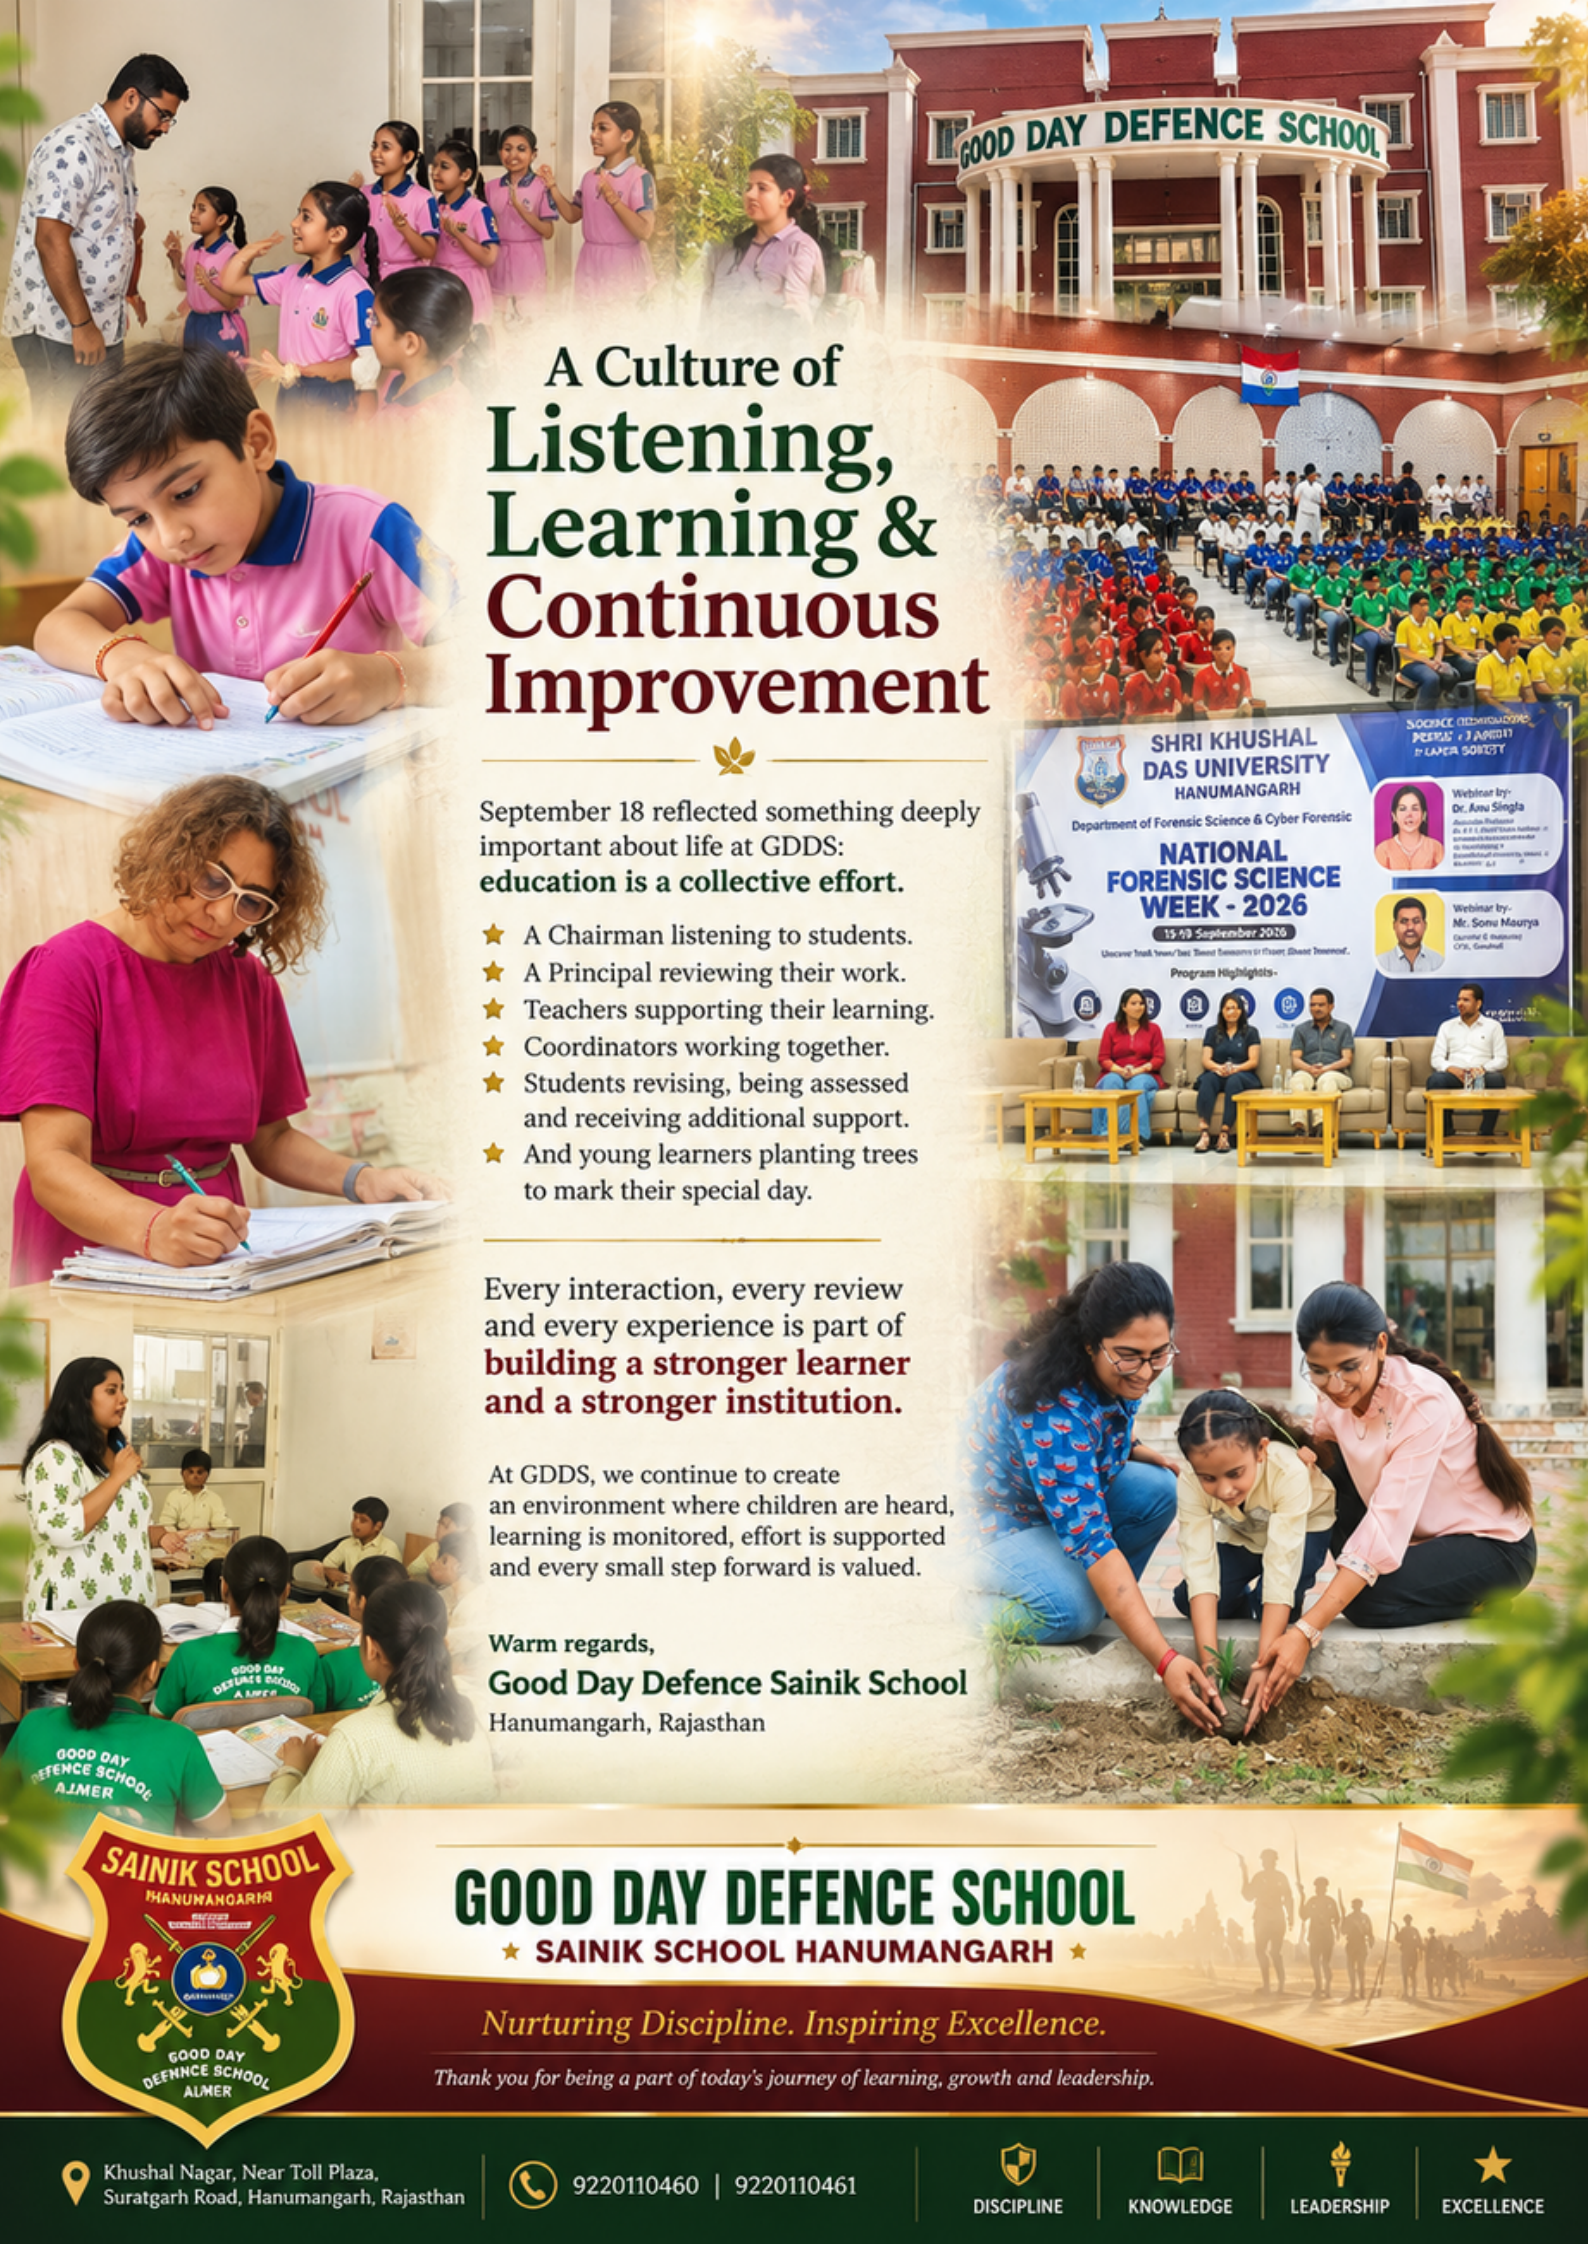

She also checked students' notebooks and copies, reviewing their work closely and dropping notes wherever required. Such regular academic monitoring helps maintain consistency, identify learning needs and ensure that classroom efforts translate into meaningful student progress.

Coordinators | Working Together Behind the Scenes

The school's coordinators met with one another, discussing and aligning on academic and operational matters. Strong schools are built not only through what happens inside classrooms, but also through the planning, communication and teamwork happening behind the scenes.

A Culture of Listening, Learning & Continuous Improvement

September 18 reflected something deeply important about life at GDDS: education is a collective effort.

- ★ A Chairman listening to students.
- ★ A Principal reviewing their work.
- ★ Teachers supporting their learning.
- ★ Coordinators working together.
- ★ Students revising, being assessed and receiving additional support.
- ★ And young learners planting trees to mark their special day.

Every interaction, every review and every experience is part of building a stronger learner and a stronger institution.

At GDDS, we continue to create an environment where children are heard, learning is monitored, effort is supported and every small step forward is valued.
