Dear Parents,

September 7 at Good Day Defence Sainik School was a beautiful blend of achievement, creativity, language learning, music, dance, and joyful togetherness. From celebrating students' accomplishments to exploring new skills, the day reflected the many dimensions of learning that make school life meaningful.

Celebrating Young Achievers

Celebrating effort, creativity, and confidence through recognition.

Handwriting Certificates

The day began on a proud note with the distribution of Handwriting Certificates to Class 5 students, recognising their effort, practice, and progress in developing neat and confident handwriting.

Poster Making Competition

This was followed by the certificate distribution for the Poster Making Competition among Class 6 students. Their recognition celebrated not just participation, but their creativity and ability to communicate ideas through art.

Class 6 | The Art of English Calligraphy

Class 6 students continued their journey of creative expression through the English Calligraphy Competition. The activity encouraged students to appreciate the beauty of written language while developing precision, patience, presentation, and attention to detail.

Learning Sanskrit

Students also explored the richness of Sanskrit, discovering a language rooted in India's cultural and literary heritage. The session offered an opportunity to connect language learning with tradition and broaden their understanding of India's linguistic legacy.

Class 12 | Finding Rhythm Through Music

Our Class 12 students explored the world of music through practice on musical instruments such as the tabla and harmonium. The session encouraged patience, rhythm, coordination, and consistent practice—reminding students that every musical skill is built one note and one beat at a time.

Learning in Many Forms

From certificates that celebrated achievement to calligraphy that demanded patience, from Sanskrit that connected students with heritage to music and dance that encouraged creative expression, September 7 showcased an important part of the GDDS learning experience:

Every skill matters.
Every effort deserves appreciation.
And every child has something unique to discover.

At GDDS, we continue to create opportunities where students can learn with curiosity, create with confidence, practise with perseverance, and celebrate their progress with pride.
