Sainik School Hanumangarh

Newsletter | 16 October 2026

Dear Parents,

Some school days are remembered for the little things: the excitement of preparing for a festival, the satisfaction of solving a challenging question, the rhythm of a dance and the happiness of going home with stories to share. At Good Day Defence School, Hanumangarh, the day brings together meaningful learning, festive creativity and joyful moments that make school life special.

Morning Assembly | Beginning Together

The morning assembly brings students together for a shared start, setting the tone for a day filled with learning, participation and purpose. It reinforces the importance of discipline, attentiveness and a sense of community.

Dussehra Craft | Creativity with a Festive Spirit

Little hands get busy preparing Dussehra crafts, bringing ideas to life through colour, imagination and careful work. These creative activities develop fine motor skills and attention to detail while helping children connect with the traditions and stories behind the festival.

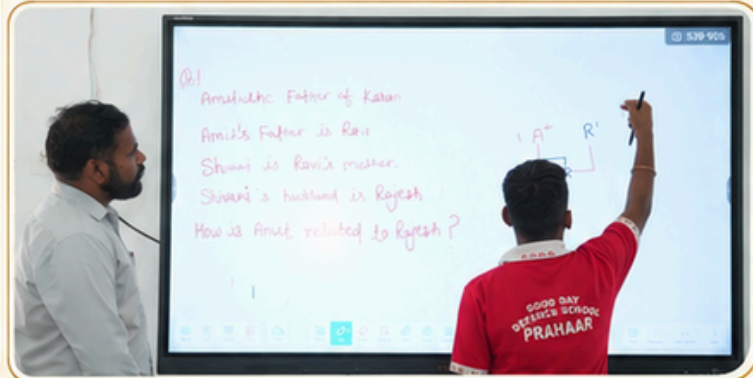

Mental Ability

Training Young Minds to Think

Students engage with mental ability questions, applying logic, reasoning and problem-solving skills. Every question offers an opportunity to think beyond the obvious, explore different approaches and develop confidence in their own thinking.

Punjabi Learning

Connecting with Language

Students explore Punjabi through their classroom learning, strengthening their familiarity with the language and its expressions. Each lesson adds to their communication skills while encouraging an appreciation of linguistic and cultural heritage.

The Director's Classroom Visits | Learning in Focus

The Director visits classrooms, observing the learning environment and connecting with the academic life of the school. Such visits reinforce the importance of engaged teaching, attentive learning and continuous efforts to make classroom experiences meaningful.

Little Feet, Big Festive Energy | UKG Dandiya

The UKG students bring a delightful burst of energy to Dandiya dance, practising their movements and enjoying the rhythm of the celebration. Through music and movement, our youngest learners build coordination, confidence and the joy of participating together.

Dandiya Practice | Seniors Bring the Swing to Life

The festive spirit continues as senior students practise Dandiya in the swing area. With every rehearsal, they work on rhythm, coordination and teamwork, preparing to celebrate together while learning the value of practice and collective effort.

Refreshment Time | A Happy Pause

Amid lessons and rehearsals, refreshment time offers students a chance to recharge, share conversations and enjoy a relaxed moment with their friends. These little pauses add warmth to the rhythm of a busy school day.

Homeward Bound | Carrying the Day's Memories

As students prepare to return home, they carry more than their schoolwork with them. They take along new ideas, creative efforts, festive excitement and stories of the moments and made of the day special. The journey between home and school is filled their opportunities to learn, grow and create memories that stay with them.

Every Day Adds Something to Their Journey

At GDDS, academic learning and joyful experiences by hand in hand. From strengthening reasoning skills to exploring languages, expressing creativity and preparing for cultural celebrations, students discover new abilities while building confidence, cooperation and curiosity.

Because the true beauty of education lies in these everyday moments, when children learn something new, find the courage to participate, create something the courage own hands and grow a little more confident with each passing day.
