Indian Air Force Career Awareness | Exploring a Future in Defence

Adding another dimension to the day's focus on leadership and service, GDDS hosted a career awareness programme on recruitment opportunities in the Indian Air Force. Conducted under the guidance of Wing Commander Mrs. Nancy Maheshwari, Commanding Officer of the Air Force Selection Centre, Jodhpur, the session was led by Senior Translation Officer B. L. Meena and Sergeant Arvind Kumar Rai.

The officers explained career opportunities for Agniveers and officer entries, covering educational eligibility, age requirements, examination patterns and the stages of the selection process. Students were also introduced to the official Indian Air Force recruitment portal for further information. Their enthusiastic questions made the session interactive and helped them better understand the pathways available to aspiring candidates.

The programme also emphasised the importance of discipline, physical fitness, hard work, determination and a strong sense of duty. School leadership encouraged students to approach their ambitions with preparation, confidence and commitment to the nation.

Building Character | Preparing Students for Greater Responsibilities

Both occasions reflected a shared vision: preparing students not only for academic success, but also for the responsibilities and opportunities that lie ahead. While the Investiture Ceremony entrusted young learners with leadership within the school community, the Air Force awareness session opened a window to careers dedicated to national service.

At GDDS, leadership begins with everyday responsibility, and aspiration grows stronger with the right guidance. By encouraging students to lead with integrity, explore meaningful career paths and uphold the values of discipline and service, the school continues to nurture individuals ready to make a positive difference.

From leading their peers to exploring a future in uniform, our students are learning to dream with purpose and serve with pride.
